This website has been created to market solar powered plants to families and medium companies.

The main function is to explain how a solar panel works and the advantages of installing one to the customer.

The interface is simple and clear, the natural colors used are reminders of the sun and the sky. The complexity of the website is low, and every page can be reached within 3 clicks.

The style is clean and the solar panel allows people to save money producing their own energy. Is a special kind of luxury and the general feel must give a sense of relax without being posh.

Gestione completa del sistema

La competenza e la professionalità di AGS Energy sono in grado di fornire impianti ready to go tecnologicamente avanzati, mettendo a disposizione tutto il supporto necessario in ogni momento dello svolgimento dell'intero progetto. Il rapporto con il cliente può proseguire anche dopo la consegna e l'avviamento dell'impianto, con un contratto di assistenza estendibile per tutta la durata dell'esercizio, che può comprendere anche la gestione e il controllo della produttività.

Prevost De Bord is an Italian family with French roots, its history goes back to the Medieval times.

The website puts emphasis on the noble qualities of the family and the values rooted in their way of life, to promote the start-up of their Wedding Planner agency.

The English section of the website has been developed only partially, as requested by the client.

The interface is minimal, leaving the family symbol, the images and the words written on the "main stage".

White is predominant, reminder of the woman's wedding dress.

Structure is basic: horizontally we find the menus containing the main sections; subsections appear aligned vertically exploding specific information.

Swit Music is a Swedish-Italian music project with aim to bring Swedish and Italian musicians and other creative people together in order to produce a compilation CD, organize four concerts and document the project.

The idea is to increase the understanding between young people in different countries, give the members experience and skills in managing international cooperation projects and create new networks across the borders by working together with something creative.

The website has been created to promote the project online and allow the free download of the recorded music tracks.

Interfaces | Dating Website, Meetic Italy

meetic easycred

The dating site Meetic asked for an improvement of the payment page, this is the final result.

Changes have been narrowed to css style modification and updates of graphical elements.

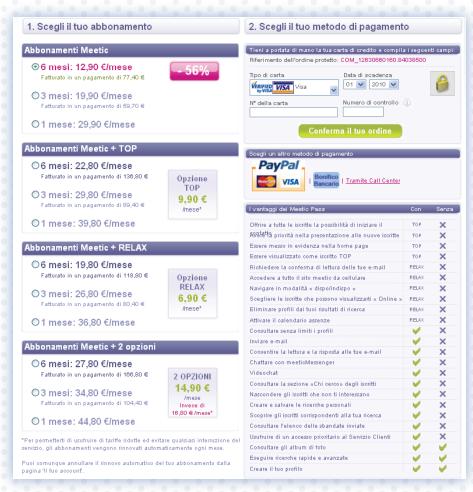

The website is almost ten years old and very complex, combining different technologies and parts: every change must follow strict rules to avoid further differentiation of the interface.

The original web page: in the first column the different contracts, in the second the payment section and the list of features for each contract.

- contracts differentiated through different colors and appear on the first part of the screen
- process sequence emphasized vertically: in the first row the basic contract, on the second row 3 option columns that add features to the basic contract and finally the payment section.
- single contract features appear in the specific "contract zones"
- texts and styles have been simplified for a more direct communication

Game Prototype

The client requested a game that could connect to the commercial campaign promoting new services for the mobile users.

At the time the concept of Vitamin was used to promote services such as multimedia messaging, voice mail, mobile Internet.

The game concept re-arranges the idea of a classical coin-op dance-battle in a "guitar hero" style: push the right button at the right time.

The objective is to help the dancer following the rhythm of music and do the right moves. Different moves of the dancer correspond to different Vitamins.

The game concept was designed for a development on Flash technology.
